ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR CONGRESS.

We are authorized to announce Judge John R. Cooper, of the county of Montgomery, a candidate for Congress subject to the action of the Democratic party.

FOR CONGRESS.

We are authorized to announce A. F. Byrd, of Winchester, Clark county, a candidate for Congress in this the Fourth District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

A handful of gravel thrown with force at a bunch of pigs causes those that are hurt to squeal.

Loyalty to a political party should not be degenerated to the endorsement of a candidate or nominee who is morally unworthy to represent a people. Choose the best.

SUBSTANTIAL GROWTH.

The various branches of business in Mt. Sterling are profitable. Business houses are well occupied and it is reported that there is not a vacant residence in the city. (Quite a number of residences are in course of construction. The building of business houses is being considered and a force of men are actively engaged attaching natural gas.

WILL THE GAZETTE SCOOP?

The second installments of indictments during the sitting of the last grand jury failed to appear in the Advocate for the reason that a few items of interest escape us which our contemporary the Gazette has a chance to scoop.

The Gazette has not claimed the scoop and that he may have right of way for the use of an item that would add freshness and favor to his publication, we give him free course. Look for the item. Be game brother Wood.

HIT CENTER.

It was an old time preacher who received a message from one of his flock that he had lost his axe and the preacher promised it should be restored. The first Saturday following the congregation met at the chapel and the venerable parson possessed with a thorough knowledge of human nature asked the brethren to occupy the front seat. A brickbat had been secretly provided and after stating the case as he held the bat in his right hand said "I shall turn around rapidly three times and throw this bat at the guilty brother. As he made the third turn the man who had stolen the axe dodged." Human nature has not changed, conscience is a mighty power.

WE ARE PLEASED TO CHANGE.

Last week in referring to a killing in a Lexington saloon on the preceding Sunday, we said in substance that Lexington needs a Mayor who would see to it that the law against Sunday opening is enforced.

He has had the reputation of not trying to close the saloons; in fact he is reported to have said that it could not be done.

Gov. Folk of Missouri was in Lexington last week and in a public speech told what has been accomplished in closing saloons on Sunday in the large cities of that state.

Since that address Mayor Combs has given strict orders to the police to see that saloons are closed from Saturday night at 12 o'clock to Monday morning at 9 o'clock, and also between these hours on other days and has called the good citizens of Lexington to report known violations of the law. We commend the Mayor.

HE SAW SNAKES.

A man of affairs a few days ago said: "I really wish from the very bottom of my heart some of you editors had the courage to break into the doings of the State Administration or machine." We told him we were ready for and willing to do that work whenever shown any hurtful dealings.

That we know the present administration is responsible for the restoration of peace following the murder of Governor Goebel. That an uprising carrying with it terror and death was about to be precipitated when the "machine" restored quiet and is to-day studiously laboring for the conviction of the persons guilty of the foulest murder that has ever stained the fair name of Kentucky. This same administration, with Governor Beckham its director, went out after more than a million of dollars due from the Federal Government and landed it in the State Treasury. It has greatly improved morals and was a resistless force power behind the movement that secured the passage of the County Unit bill. It was a prime mover in the effort that secured the election of Judge Paynter to the U. S. Senate over Hon. J. C. S. Blackburn. Is responsible for the enactment of the revenue bill which adds materially to our annual resources giving Kentucky means enabling her to provide quarters, facilities and security second to no other state in the union. All these things and vastly more do we find to the credit of the Administration but if you will show us where at any time and under any circumstances the state Administration has done harm to Kentucky we will go after them with an unsheathed blade. This man of affairs had become sour. He dreamed of many things going wrong just because he had fallen out of line and had not kept abreast with the aggressiveness of Kentucky. Pitiable are such old men who live back among the "has bins" and his self is one of them. As a Democrat we are proud of what is being brought to pass by our Democratic Administration that Kentucky morally and financially is in a better condition than for years. That the temperance move is going on to victory and that heart-aches of wives, mothers and sisters are becoming less frequent. That boys are to become men and wives are to be happy with sober, honorable husbands. The old man of affairs sour with the world was not a Montgomery county man nor was he an Eastern Kentucky man. We really hope such men may be called to glory rather than become knockers hurtful to the policies to which they hold.

EXPRESS OFS OF GRATITUDE.

From The Quake District of California.

Room 64, Bacon Bldg.,
Oakland, Cal., May 3, 1906.

DEAR MR. HEDDEN:

Today amid the rush of nervous business that has prevailed here since the terrible catastrophe, I am in receipt of a clipping of an article published in your paper. I was overpowered for a moment and then brought down with tears of gratitude for this expression of unreserved goodness to me. The feeling of longing for my old Kentucky home seemed more intense than ever before, though I have often reasoned with myself since leaving, that I could think Foster's good old melody with more feeling of pathos than any old time ditty was ever known to sing it. I wish you could know how I feel when I say, I thank you. I escaped safely and without any great loss, but had I been in need of help about to be offered me, and accepted it, I assure you I could not have appreciated it more than I do appreciate the good intention of yourself and my other friends in your desire to help me.

My escape was a narrow one, a chimney falling on the roof just over where I was sleeping, and all the brick-brace and such on top my folding bed in my face, yet with the exception of the result of the nervous shock sustained by this trying ordeal, I am well. It is indeed impossible for one who has never endured such a quake to conceive of the real terror of being awakened by one, the cracking of the house, falling of pictures, furniture, chimneys and such, with the feeling that you are moving, perhaps into the other world, things about seemingly all fear that can be endured. I passed through the first, and hardest and longest shock very well, but when I realized by a second, third and so on, that there were more to follow, it seemed like a show of teeth. It is claimed that we have experienced in all 33 quakes, and I feel sure that the number is not overdrawn. The newspapers have not overprinted the terrible-ness of this calamity, that is impossible, the fact can never be told. Three-fourths of San Francisco is a total ruin, many buildings being destroyed by the quake, some buildings sinking one story, though the fire had waste the greater part of what is now in ruins. The shock in Oakland and vicinity was not so severe as in the Bay City, yet there was not a single chimney left standing, many buildings being totally demolished, all being greatly damaged.

I wish I had time to more fully detail the calamity, but rejoice in the hope of being able to see you all this summer and of having the privilege of thanking you in person for this act of kindness. With kindest regards to yourself and family. I am, Very sincerely, BELLAR SHANKLAND.

Educational Conference.

The Educational Conference last week brought many people to the Blue Grass Capitol. The estimate is that there were 500 delegates in attendance. Address of welcome was handsomely delivered by our Governor, who is always the right man in the right place. Gov. Folk of Missouri, was a drawing figure, and no one was disappointed in him. The programs were really interesting and profitable also. The educators in attendance from here were County Superintendent M. J. Goodwin and wife, Prof. H. M. Gunn and wife, Prof. Earl Midkiff, and Misses Anna Laughlin and Mary Pratt Hedden.

DOWIE'S GRIP HAS FAILED

In Zion City, and His Little Band Cuts Small Figure.

Chicago, May 4.—John Alexander Dowie is making little if any progress in regaining any foothold among his former followers in Zion City. The "First Apostles" has been in Zion City for five days and has held three meetings in Shiloh temple, but the "faithful" are still loyal to their new leader, Overseer William Wilson. Dowie and do not respond to Dowie's call for reinstatement in their favor.

Dowie's little meeting since his return from Mexico for the purpose of telling his side of the controversy was held in the tabernacle Thursday night.
Fewer than 300 Zionists attended the meeting, the remainder of the inhabitants of the city keeping away from the tabernacle in obedience to the wishes of Voliva.

Dowie's discourse was along the same lines as on the two former occasions. He denied all the charges that have been made against him.
Mrs. Dowie was on the platform with him, and also addressed the meeting.
Dowie's health seems to be improving. He walked about the platform while addressing the meeting and seemed to be steadily gaining strength since his return to Zion City.

in New Jersey. A reward of $2,500 had been offered for information to Nahan's whereabouts. He was supposed to have had $5,000 in cash with him. Only $136 was found in his clothing. His gold watch was missing.

To the Burley Tobacco Growers.

We are now at the beginning of another crop. The reports come in from the various parts of the district that plant beds are showing up fairly well; farm work is progressing, and no serious obstacle is in the way of promising good crop of farm products.

It seems to be generally accepted that the hard work done in the interest of the Burley Tobacco Grower in 1904-1905 has brought about a gradual change for the better, and though the improvement is in no way sufficient, yet it indicates what organization can accomplish if followed up. Every grower who worked for the cause in 1904 and subscribed to the organization in 1905 and had a crop of tobacco and sold it has received the value of his subscription with good interest.
But in addition to that he still has his organization to push the work.

During the winter some inexpensive work has been followed up and things put in shape, to be ready for business. provided the plans can be agreed upon and the necessary financial strength made permanent and reliable. Investigation and a careful study of the past year forces the conclusion that the grower failed to sign up his tobacco mainly because he failed to realize the importance of prompt action, and because he expected extensions of time, and a desire to see his neighbor do it first, while several here in mind certain things that occurred the year before, while a few availed themselves of the tie-up to sell to the trust at bigger prices, which created soreness, and this company was determined not to put its faithful supporters in such a position again.

If the grower had placed absolute confidence in the published statements of the company that the true would not be extended, and had come up with their Contract "A", the following lines would not have to be written.

All of us who labored to secure the financial backing felt perfectly safe in representing to the financiers that Contract "A" would be forthcoming without hesitation, and when it was not, we felt.
This unfortunate circumstance is now used as an argument against us and makes the work of securing the necessary financial part still harder, as those financiers with us in 1905 have lost faith, but as "there are others" we still have the faith it can be done.

Another obstacle that may confront us is the planting of a large crop in 1906.
This company is receiving reports constantly, the result of our continuous correspondence and in nearly all cases complaints come of sales, prices, and grading, but it was either accepted what they got or nothing, etc., etc., complaints that, while the prices were a little better than expected, etc., etc., are still in the grip of the trust and we have no permanent, enduring relief. I get this direct from the grower. If true, why is it true? You answer: Because they are so big, and so strong, and so rich, that we poor growers cannot stand against them. Such an answer is weak—not the whole truth—and misleading.

There is a familiar quotation "Truth crushed to earth will rise again," and it is a fact that the Burley grower, by making the above answer, crushes the truth down every year, and every year it rises again—you say that every year, and while you are saying it you are planning to plant all the tobacco you can, working to get out a big crop, as though it was selling in the barn at 20c per pound—then when you get the new crop into the barn you find your neighbors have done the same. The trust buyers offer you 5, 6, 7 or 8c, provided it grades all right—and you say it's this or nothing, then truth rises up and confronts you with the actual facts. The

DEATHS

CHAMBERS—Mrs. Mary Chambers of Stillwater, Wolf county, returning from a funeral service stopped to get a drink, as she raised the water to her lips she fell dead.

MONTAGUE—Miss Wallace Montague died at Louisville on Sunday May 6, 1906. The burial was at Paris on yesterday, where she lived. She is a sister of Mrs. Martin Brown of our city. She taught school at Sideview last winter. The death was sudden, resulting from an operation.

MILLER—James Miller died of general debility at his home in Paris Ill. on Monday, April 23, 1906. He was born in Monroe county Ky., Oct. 12, 1826, at the age of 8 years he went with his parents to Edgar county, Ill. His business experience in Paris began in 1854. His life work has been merchandising. He has been prosperous and has been a deacon of the Christian Church. He leaves three sons, J. Will, Frank and L. Lee—the former of whom married Miss Belle Turner of our city in 1887.

HIXON—Miss Julia Hixon died at the home of her parents in this city on Saturday morning May 5, 1906 at the age of nineteen years. Last year she and other members of the family were severely afflicted with typhoid fever. Her frail constitution could not endure the severity of the attack of hasty consumption and the decline was rapid. She was a member of the Christian Church, an attractive young woman. Burial service in Mchelpen was conducted on Sunday afternoon by Revs. Clark and Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Peggs, of Versailles; Jas. Peggs, of Maysville; and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Peggs of L & N Junction were at the funeral.

For Sale—Two heavy work horses, weight 2500lb. Phone W. T. Swango. 42-2t.

An entertainment will be given at the Somerset Church on the evening of May 16, for the benefit of Council Bluff School. An excellent program has been arranged, and a pleasant evening is promised.

Little To Indictment.
The Court of Appeals in the Adams Express cases, the Commonwealth from Knox county, holds that the express company is liable to indictment for shipping whisky into local option districts unless it can be proven that the C. O. D. shipment is a genuine Interstate Commerce shipment. In the case on trial the shipments were made from Cincinnati, but the consignee was not named and the consignors not notified by the Express Company that the package was in the Barboursville office. The court says that in such shipment the Express Company is the agent of the unknown shipper and the whole transaction is a fraud to which the company is a party.

Does Your Heart Beat
Yes. 100,000 times each day. Does it send out good blood or bad blood? You know, for good blood is good health; bad blood, bad health. And you know precisely what to take for bad blood—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Doctors have endorsed it for 60 years.

One frequent cause of bad blood is sluggish liver. This produces constipation. Parasitic worms are then absorbed into the blood instead of being removed from the body daily as nature intended. Keep the bowels clean with Ayer's Pills, liver pills. All vegetables.
